Scientific article structure:

The structure of a scientific article includes IMRAD (for original articles), title, abstracts, keywords, introduction, materials and methods, results, discussion, conclusion, funding information (if available), bibliography.

- IRSTI
- Author(s) full name (add a clickable link to the personal ORCID profile)
- Place of work of the author(s), city, country, e-mail (institutional email address confirming affiliation)
- Title of the article
- Abstract
- Key words
- Introduction
- Research materials and methods
- Results and their discussion
- Conclusion
- Financing Information (if available)
- The contribution of the authors
- References
- Information about the authors.

In the personal data of the author(s), an asterisk (*) marks the main author (correspondent author). The full name of the author(s) is indexed with the place of work of each.

Example:

Article Submission Guidelines

IRSTI (Interstate rubricate of scientific and technical information) on its topic can be determined on the website http://www.grnti.ru. Indicated in the upper left corner of the manuscript. (Alignment – on the left edge, font – bold, size -12).

Author(s) After IRSTI, the first name, patronymic, surname of the author(s), academic degree, academic title, city, country, postal code should be indicated through the line. The name of the organization or institution, and the name must be complete, without abbreviations. If there are several authors, they themselves decide on the order of their mention in the article and bear full responsibility for its content. The number of authors is no more than 3. (Alignment – centered, font – normal, size -12).

The title of the article is written in the center, in capital letters, bold, straight font, size -12. In the other two languages, i.e., in Russian and English (if the article is written in Kazakh); in Kazakh and English (if the article is written in Russian); and in Kazakh and Russian (if the article is written in English).

Abstracts and keywords shall be presented consecutively in three languages: Kazakh, Russian, and English. The abstract in the language of the article, together with the keywords, shall appear first. It shall be immediately followed by the article title, abstract, and keywords in the second language, and then by the article title, abstract, and keywords in the third language.

In Abstract (Аңдатпа/Аннотация) the most important research results and their theoretical and practical significance are presented. The abstract outlines the essence and methods of the research, summarizes the most important results and their significance. The abstract should reflect a summary of the article, its essence, purpose, general research topics, a brief description of the problem, object, subject.

The volume of the abstract is 150- 300 words. Russian, English (if the article is in Kazakh), Kazakh English (if the article is in Russian), Kazakh and Russian (if the article is in English) are written after the literature at the beginning of the article. (Alignment – width, font – normal, size-12).

Key words (Негізгі сөздер/Ключевые слова) are designed to search for the text of the article and determine its subject area, 5-7 key words and phrases are recommended. Russian English (if the article is in Kazakh), Kazakh English (if the article is in Russian), Kazakh and Russian (if the article is in Russian), Kazakh and Russian (if the article is in English) at the end of the article after the annotation. (Alignment – width, font – normal, size -12).

The structure of the abstract includes the following items:

- Introduction to the research topic.
- Aim, main directions and ideas of scientific research.
- Brief description of the scientific and practical significance of the work.
- Brief description of the research methodology.
- Main results and analysis, research findings.
- The value of the study (the contribution of this work to the relevant field).
- Practical implications of the outcome of the research.

Keywords: Keywords (5-7 words or phrases) should reflect the main content of the article; determine the subject area of the study; occur in the text of the article. Keywords are separated from each other by a comma.

Ключевые слова:

Each scientific article must have a DOI (Digital Object Identifier).

DOI: https://doi.org/10.32523/2789-4320-2024-1-x-x

Received: xx.xx.20xx. Accepted: xx.xx.20xx. Available online: xx.xx.20xx.

Introduction consists of the following main elements:

- It is reported that there is a problematic situation (the absence of any research, the appearance of a new object, etc.) in justifying the choice of a topic based on the description of the experience of predecessors. Topicality of the topic is determined by the general interest in the study of this object, but the lack of comprehensive answers to existing questions, it is proved by the theoretical or practical significance of the topic.
- Definition of the object, subject, aim, objectives, methods, approaches, hypothesis and meaning of the work. The aim of the study is related to the proof of the thesis, that is, the presentation of the subject of research in the aspect chosen by the author.
- The Literature review section should cover fundamental and new works on the subject of study by foreign authors, analysis of these works in terms of their scientific contribution, as well as gaps in the study.
- IT is UNACCEPTABLE to have multiple references unrelated to the work, or inappropriate judgments about the author's own achievements, references to the author's previous works.

The methodology should consist of a description of the materials and progress of the work, as well as a complete description of the used methods.

- The characteristic or description of the research material includes its presentation in qualitative and quantitative terms. The characteristic of the material is one of the factors determining the reliability of the conclusion and research methods.
- This section describes how the problem was studied: detailed information without repeating previously published established procedures; identification of hardware (software) and description of materials are used, with mandatory novelty of materials and methods.

The scientific methodology should include:

- research question(s);
- the proposed hypothesis (thesis);
- stages of the study;
- research methods.

Findings/Discussion part is one of the most important sections of the article. The section provides an analysis and discussion of the results of the study. The conclusion based on the results obtained during the study are presented, the main essence is revealed. It is necessary to analyze the results of the work and discuss the relevant results in comparison with previous works, analyses and conclusion.

The tables are included directly in the text of the work. They should be numbered and accompanied by a reference to them in the text of the work. Figures and graphs should be presented in one of the standard formats: PS, PDF, TIFF, GIF, JPEG, BMP, PCX. Bitmaps must be executed with a resolution of 600 dpi. All details should be clearly conveyed in the figures.

For example:

Note: compiled based on the data [14]

Table 1. Number of international students by country of arrival [14]

Country of arrival	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021
Uzbekistan	3 683	9 500	25 964	15 642	14 404
India	3 500	3717	4450	4220	5 987
Turkmenistan	1 320	2 615	3 176	2 795	2 795
Russian Federation	1 075	1 273	1 247	1 298	1 263
Mongolia	439	565	888	1128	1010
China	1290	1240	807	871	811
Kyrgyzstan	1 026	1 026	1 026	1 067	659
Jordan	60	62	228	515	546
Other countries	1 505	1 671	1 683	1 533	1 462

Note: compiled based on the data [14]

Conclusion is generalization and summing up of the work at this stage; confirmation of the truth of the statement put forward by the author, and the author's conclusion about the change in scientific knowledge, taking into account the obtained results. Conclusion should not be abstract, it should be used to summarize the results of research in a particular scientific field, with a description of proposals or opportunities for further work.

Acknowledgement, conflict of interests

Specify the sources of funding and other contributions, acknowledgements, and conflicts of interest.

The contribution of the authors. In this section, it is necessary to indicate the contribution of each author to the work on the article. A contribution to a work is an intellectual investment, without which part of the work or the work as a whole could not be completed. The authors of the article may be persons whose contribution to the work is based on the following criteria:

- significant contribution to the concept or design of the work; collection, analysis or interpretation of the results of the work;
- writing a text and/or critically reviewing its content;
- approval of the final version of the article for publication;

- consent to be responsible for all aspects of the work, proper study and resolution of issues related to the reliability of data or the integrity of all parts of the article.

Persons who performed a different role in the preparation of the article can be indicated in the section of the article “Acknowledgements”.

The examples of formulations are not exhaustive, it is desirable to emphasize the uniqueness of the contribution of each of the authors, to detail his participation in the work on the article. It is necessary to indicate the name of the individual stages of the experimental work carried out for those co-authors whose contribution consisted in carrying out the experiment.

Formatting the Reference List

All articles, publications, and materials submitted for publication must include a reference list formatted in accordance with the requirements of the Harvard citation style.

Main Requirements for Formatting the Reference List:

Structure of References:

- Author(s), year of publication, title of the work, title of the publication (if applicable), publisher, city of publication.
- For online resources, a full URL and the access date must be provided.

Information about the Harvard referencing style can be found at the following link: https://bullaw.enu.kz/index.php/main/libraryFiles/downloadPublic/11*.
This resource contains guidelines and examples for correctly formatting citations and bibliographic references in compliance with the Harvard style.

If there are works presented in Cyrillic in the list of references, it is necessary to submit the list of references in two versions: the first – in the original, the second – in the romanized alphabet (transliteration).

The romanized list of references should look like this: transliteration - http://www.translit.ru
